Ingoldsby beach is worth developing council told

After almost three years of struggling to have Ingoldsby Beach opened to the public, there are still some who consider it to be private property, Anson, Hindon and Minden townships council was told Thursday.

Ingoldsby resident Linda Schrader told council she would like to see more of the property cleared for public use. She would also like the township to install a public dock and have the private docks removed.

Public lakefront property is precious even in Haliburton County where there is an abundance of lakes. "This is township property and it's worth being developed," Schrader said.

The 383-foot strip of shoreline property on the south side of Kashagwigamog Lake is in fact public property. However, Schrader said she and her family can not go on that property and feel comfortable.

Despite efforts by the former bylaw enforcement officer to have private boat docks removed from the area, at least one is still in place. Having a private dock on the property promotes the belief that this is private property. Schrader adds that her son has been ordered to get off the property at various times.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said he can understand Schrader's concern. He said there is definitely a problem "if somebody's going to browbeat the kids every time they go near the water."

Nesbitt also agreed that the municipality should follow through by putting in a public dock, clearing some of the underbrush and setting up picnic tables. He said the reason work stopped on the property was because council was not sure if the need for immediate development was worth the trouble. "Is there a need for an outright war against the neighbour?" he asked.

Schrader believes development of the property is important to the neighbourhood in general. "If you've ever been in an area where there isn't any water, you'd appreciate what we've got here in Haliburton." Lakeshore land is scarce, she said. And the longer people are allowed to believe this is private property, the harder it will be to eventually clear it all up.

Councillor Verne Graham noted that some work has been done on the area over the past few weeks. He said all the shoreline has been reseeded and barriers have been set up to prevent cars from driving over the edge. He also said that the docks, although installed by individuals, are public domain.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Deputy Reeve Bern Berry raises his arm to signal the start of the tenth annual Black Bear Car Rally. There were 34 cars entered in this year's event, which is more a test of skill than of speed. This is the fourth year the competition, which is sponsored by the Maple Leaf Rally Club and the Rockcliffe Tavern, started on Minden's Main Street.

Fisherman drowns near Falls

Wieslaw Parzy is dead after he lost his footing while fishing in fast-moving water north of here on the long weekend.

The 26-year-old Mississauga man was fishing at the base of Ragged Falls on the evening of May 20 when his line snagged.

Police report that he waded into the water, lost his balance, and drowned. OPP divers recovered the body from the river the following morning.

Ragged Falls is located off Highway 60, west of Algonquin Provincial Park.

Donald man charged with assault

A 48-year-old Donald man is charged with two counts of assault after a lengthy stand-off at a home on the Old Donald Road on May 20.

Minden police called for assistance from surrounding forces during the drawn out investigation.

According to the police report the incident was a "domestic complaint."

Walter Wayne Emmer-son is to appear in Provincial Court in Minden on June 1 for a bail hearing.

OPP Constable Gary Chapman is the investigating officer.

McRae Park to join Algonquin

More than 7,200 hectares of land in Victoria and Haliburton Counties will join the provincial parks system, M.P.P. John Eakins announced recently.

Indian Point, an 860

hectare parcel of land on Balsam Lake just west of Cobocok, will become one of the 53 new provincial parks. A large 6,354 hectare parcel of land called the McRae addition will be joined onto the Southwest corner of Algonquin Provincial Park in Haliburton County.

Under a new classification system introduced recently by Minister of Natural Resources, Vince Kerrio, there will be six classes of provincial parks: wilderness, nature reserves, historical, natural environment, waterway and recreation. The two new provincial parks in Victoria - Haliburton will be classified as "natural environment."

Mr. Eakins says the 53 new parks will bring the total number in Ontario to 270, covering 6.3 million hectares.

"I am very pleased that our government has taken the initiative to preserve even more of our natural environment," Mr. Eakins says, Victoria - Haliburton is blessed with an abundance of wilderness.

Board sets policy

The Haliburton County Board of Education has endorsed a policy that will see the elimination of smoking on school properties by 1990. The new policy was passed, with two dissenting votes, at the May 24 meeting of the board.

According to the new directive, beginning September 1 of this year, smoking will be permitted in the schools only in designated areas prior to 9 a.m. and after 4 p.m. The board has already established rooms within the schools where smoking is allowed, in most cases, in staff rooms.

On the same date in 1989, smoking will be banned completely throughout all school buildings in the county. This ban will extend to all hours of the day and include those involved in functions outside of the normal school routine.

The final portion of the policy will come in effect September 1, 1990, when smoking will be banned from all school property. This final step will eliminate the smoking area, which has been designated for student use behind the high school.

Minden trustee Wendy Ladurantaye noted that the policy was a culmination of more than two years of discussion and consideration. She said that spokesmen representing smokers and non-smokers were invited to address the board on the issue. Ladurantaye said she felt the phased-in policy would give those affected time to adjust the new conditions.

Province plans to cut down pesticides usage

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

This week I would like to talk about a new initiative from our government which will cut pesticide use by 50 per cent by the year 2002.

The initiative, called Food Systems 2002, will begin this year and was announced recently by my colleague, the Honourable Jack Riddell, Minister of Agriculture and Food.

Food Systems 2002 is a long-range program announced in principle by Premier David Peterson last Fall and it involves three main components: research, education, and extension.

During the first year of the 15-year program, $1.4-million has been allocated to hire four management specialists, expand the existing pesticide safety course for growers and begin research. The annual $800,000 research allocation will fund targeted studies on alternatives to pesticides and pest management programs to reduce the dependence on chemicals.

For example, research will look at the cost/benefit of various pest control options, the development of disease and insect-resistant plants, the most appropriate methods of applying pesticides at reduced rates and the control of crop-damaging insects by other insects.

A grower pesticide safety course will be fully implemented to complement the existing ministry course for pesticide vendors. Some growers have already taken part in a pilot project to test the contents and acceptability of the course. Also, a full-time co-ordinator for the educational program will be hired.

Under the Ontario Pesticide Education Program, during the next five years, up to 35,000 growers will be taking courses on the safe handling and application of pesticides. To help farmers reduce pesticide use in 1988/89, one pest management specialist will be located in Clarksburg (apples), two at Centralia (rutabagas/muck vegetable; corn/cereals) and one at Vine-land (greenhouse flowers). These specialists will organize on-farm demonstrations, conduct feasibility studies, develop strategies for selection and time of pest control options, and work with researchers.

Road ownership is questioned

Lutterworth Township could be asked to pay more than $7,000 in compensation if Gerald Gillespie's claim to a section of Cameron Road is valid.

For the past 53 years, Cameron and his father have insisted that the section of roadway abutting their property belongs to them. Recently, he came upon some documentation which shows that the property should belong to the family.

At the May 19 council meeting, Gillespie told council that this matter dates back to 1935, when his father owned the property. The new Highway 35 was being built, and for the most part, followed the path of Cameron Road. However, in areas where the highway deviates from the road, the abutting property owners were to be given title to the roadway property.

The documentation which Gillespie showed council was a copy of the old bylaw which instructs the municipality to deed the roadway property to those who own the adjacent property. Gillespie said he has shown this bylaw to his lawyer and was told it does prove ownership.

Reeve Bill Valentine agreed that a bylaw had been passed, but the council of the day had not carried it any further. He said the deed had not been transferred. The municipality's solicitor will be asked to comment on whether the old bylaw alone gives Gillespie ownership.

Gillespie told council that his father had always maintained that the property belonged to him. However, when the roadway was not used and allowed to grow over with weeds people assumed that it was still municipal property. Property owners on the opposite side of the roadway subdivided their property, using the Cameron Road as the access.

Although Gillespie said he has always posted the roadway with "private road" signs, they were ignored by the municipality and property owners. He said he even went so far as to fell trees across the road, but they were removed.

Three years ago the municipality began widening the roadway and maintaining it for year-round use. This is when Gillespie began searching in earnest for proof of his ownership.

If the roadway does indeed belong to Gillespie, he owns enough land for two building lots. He had an appraisal done on the property and was told the two lots are worth $10,800 combined with the roadway property. Without that property they are worth only $3,520. He feels he should be compensated for the difference.

"Council has caused this problem. Therefore, it is up to council to solve it," he said. "I'm willing to negotiate, but I want some sort of compensation." He said he would consider accepting another piece of property in lieu of the roadway.

Council was not prepared to dispute Gillespie's claim, but asked that the matter be held over until the next regular meeting. In the mean time, council will be seeking advice from its solicitor.

Three poachers fined

The Nogies Creek Deer yard has traditionally been an important wintering area for deer in the southern part of the Minden District. Local hunt camps provide supplementary feed to the deer making them very accessible for viewing. This is a popular pastime by many local residents.

Unfortunately these deer are also vulnerable to poaching. Three local residents found out that this type of unsportsmanlike activity will not be tolerated.

On May 17 David McKenzie, James Nichols, and David Sharpe all of Bobcaygeon were convicted in the Provincial Court in Peterborough of unlawfully possessing a firearm and unlawfully hunting at night in this deer yard. Their firearm was permanently seized, hunting licences cancelled for five years and in addition each individual was assessed a fine of $1,500.

Investigating Conservation Officers with the Ministry of Natural Resources from Minden District were Dan Smith and Barry Walker.

Parks

Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships council is to be commended for its foresight in refusing to sell any of the municipally owned access points to the area's lakes. And perhaps now is the time to begin developing more of these areas into usable public facilities.

At last Thursday's meeting, council reaffirmed its commitment to keeping these areas for public use. In no uncertain terms, Reeve Sinc Nesbitt told a local resident that this council will not consider selling any of the 66-foot road allowances which provide access to lakes. For reasons which we have explained numerous times in the past, we agree entirely with this policy.

Later in the same meeting, though, an Ingoldsby resident approached council asking that the Ingoldsby Beach area be cleaned up and developed into a small park for all area residents. Admittedly, this situation is a difficult one, and the township has been making gradual progress toward this goal. Eventually this will be a nice little park, but in the mean time there are other areas that could also be upgraded for better public use.

The municipality recently hired a Parks Superintendent. Perhaps one of his initial tasks should be to examine the municipality's present lakeshore properties and target a few for future development into parks or parkettes.

Trains beat traffic jams

Here's a chilling statistic culled from the pages of a recent edition of Harper's magazine:

Combined number of hours Los Angeles motorists waste each day in traffic jams: 100,000.

A hundred thousand hours each day. That's more than 4,000 days! Nearly twelve years of collective inaction! Think of it. All those drivers in all those cars sitting, steaming, fuming ... Going nowhere and doing nothing - aside from force feeding their ulcers and polluting the environment.

I think about that statistic quite a bit - but then I have time to, because Fate and economics dictate that I, too, must commute to a large metropolis several times a week in order to keep myself in Skippy peanut butter and hold the Revenue Canada weasels at bay.

In my case, the metropolis is Toronto. Not as freeway festooned or concrete-crazed as Los Angeles, but getting there, getting there. If I drive, I can count on running into the first forest of winking red brake lights about 30 miles due west of Toronto City Hall. After that, it's anybody's guess. On a bad day it can be stop-and-go with extra helpings of the former.

On a good day I might even be able to leave it in fourth gear.

But I'm lucky. I don't have to endure the horrors of big city traffic. I can drive 12 miles from my house to a nearby town and catch a Gray Coach bus that'll carry me right to the heart of Hogtown.

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

On a good day. On a normal day, the bus gets snarled in the same traffic jam I took the bus to avoid. Except on the bus, I have to sit through it in a steel tube full of strangers, each of us jack-knifed into seats built for anorexic dwarves.

Which leaves me with a third option (aside from moving or going on UIC) - I can avail myself of the services of Via Rail. Yes there's a train depot just half a block from the bus terminal. The passenger trains that run to the Big Smoke feature those grand old plush coach chairs that they used to build for full-sized human bodies. Seats that recline and even, if the conductor isn't looking, swivel around, so that foursomes can get together for a game of cards or a couple of beers and a good yak.

Yes, my train even has bar service.

The scenery is captivating, the company is convivial, the coffee is hot, the beer is cold ... taking the train to the city would be absolutely perfect if only, if only...

If only it worked.

It doesn't. Not very well anyway. Those comfortable old railway cars are really old - 35 years each, on average. They should have been retired to stud years ago. Instead, thanks to hostile and forked-tongued federal regimes - Tory and Grit - the wheezy old carriages have been pressed into service well beyond their capacity. They break down a lot. And anyone who has to punch a clock or keep appointments just can't rely on the train to get them there.

But I take the train anyway. I take it because my work hours are flexible, the train schedule (such as it is) is convenient, and because even with the breakdowns, the delays and the no-shows, Via Rail is by far the best way to get from where I live to the city without enduring the hideous purgatory of traffic jams.

The irony is that right out behind my house, which is deep in the country, there's a railway line. It's getting harder to find each year. The tracks are rusting, the ties are rotting and crumbling, the dogwood and twitchgrass are slowly crocheting a shroud that will one day cover the track bed. Once upon a time I could have walked out my door, hailed that train, climbed aboard and availed myself of a passenger train network that would have whisked me, cheaply and efficiently, to Toronto or Vancouver or Lunenburg or just about anywhere on the continent.

But that was a long time ago. Sixty or seventy years at least.

We're much more advanced now.

directions

by Edward Moll

I planted the garden the other day. Seeds of radishes, carrots, peas, beans, and lettuce went in hope into the ground. Last, but not least, I planted the tomatoes. These last were already young and well-developed, six to a box, four boxes in all. In order to separate them I had to tear at the roots and the soil, ensuring that each plant had sufficient soil to cover the roots. Then I bedded them into the ground, and watered them well.

Nevertheless, they all wilted within the hour. I thought to myself, "What a waste of time. I plant these things expecting a good crop of tomatoes at the summer's end, and they die on me."

In disgust I went in to eat. After supper I checked them again. I was pleasantly surprised: all but one of the plants had regained their original state of firmness. Perhaps we would have tomatoes after all.

I thought about what dying and death do to us. We go along in life, "keep on keeping on", maybe growing, sometimes stagnating, and then someone close to us dies. Or your parents break up. Or your teenager goes with the wrong crowd, and in a moment of forgetful carelessness gets into serious trouble. That's like death. Something gets ripped apart inside. You shrivel up, lose strength and resolve. Your hands hang down and your knees weaken.

The visitors have all paid their respects, and friends do their best to be kind, but they really don't know how much it hurts. They say, "You'll get over it," but you know you won't.

So often we cope with the pain by keeping busy all the time. That is a temptation to resist: you don't really cope with the hurt by constant activity, you just avoid it. And then at the end of the day, when you're dog-tired and trying unsuccessfully to go to sleep, your life and death crashes in on you again.

When you're separated, torn away from security, hope and comfort, that is the time to get planted in the good, rich soil of God's presence. You can read Scripture, meditate, and pray. You can meet with friends who are going through similar struggles. You can find what comfort can be gained by going to worship God with His people.

It is a time for growth in the midst of pain, a time to trust the promise of life that God can bring in the midst of death.

Who knows? Perhaps God can bear a bountiful harvest of care and compassion through you.

Jesus said, "Truly I say to you, unless a kernel of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies and is buried, it will produce much fruit."

Hurrah for HHSS band

Editor:

Hip hip hoorah! hip hip hoorah! hip hip hoorah! The Haliburton High School Stage Band pulled it off. With all of the stiff competition from across Canada they came home with a bronze medal. Band members, and all associated with fund raising efforts are to be truly commended. I'm sure everyone in Haliburton County is walking around with their chests thrust out, and indeed we should. Congratulations, good show, fantastic, awesome.

Dorset Acid Rain report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing laboratory in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

There were four periods of precipitation recorded for the week of May 15 - 21.

May 15 - 28 mm rain, 4.3 pH from Indiana, Ohio and southern Ontario.

May 19 - 3 mm rain, 4.7 pH from New England and eastern Ontario.

May 20 - 10 mm rain, 3.9 pH from New England, New York and eastern Ontario.

May 21 - 5 mm rain, 5.0 pH from southern New England, New York and southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Letter dropping

jack's world

by publisher Jack Brezina

I turn to a favourite companion of mine, the Insomniac's Dictionary by Paul Hellweg, for some more fun with words this week.

The author describes an interesting game for those intrigued by the manipulation of words. Called a lipogram, the idea is to prepare a written work without the use of a certain letter, or letters, of the alphabet. As an illustration, as you peruse this missive you will note that I have cleverly avoided the use of the letter 'X', perhaps one of the more common, and I might add, over-used letters of our alphabet. But, as you can see, with some adroit manipulation of the massive vocabularian reservoir, I am able to produce this document without coming anywhere near the twenty-fourth letter of the alphabet.

Pshaw, I hear you say. And perhaps rightly so. My source informs me that this is not a new game, and, in fact, one of the early Greek poets, you know, those guys with the names you don't even try to pronounce, in this case, Tryphiodorus, made lipograms his life work ... no doubt in addition to eating grapes dropped in his mouth by winsome maidens.

Anyway, Tryp, as he was known around the ruins, penned some 24 volumes, each being devoid of one letter of the Greek alphabet. No doubt he had a government grant to help cover the cost of the grapes. There is no indication as to the length of these volumes, but the simple fact that his heroic effort has somehow reached us through the mists of time provides an indication that someone thought what he was doing was important.

Not to be outdone, others have assumed Tryp's burden from time to time through time. Gyles Brandreth rewrote some of Shakespeare's plays in a lipogrammatic style ... sorry, I can't tell you which letter or letters he dropped. And, of more recent history, in Ernest Vincent Wright's 50,000 word novel, "Gadsby" published in 1939, there was narry an 'E' to be found.

A Mr. Ross Eckler, according to my authority, is the world's best known lipogramist. He has toiled long and hard over the nursery rhyme, Mary Had A Little Lamb, deleting words with certain letters of the alphabet, and yet retaining the original intent and rhyme scheme. I can't help but believe there is another government grant in here somewhere. Here is an illustration of his rendering of the wee ditty sans the letter 'S':

Mary had a little lamb
With fleece a pale white hue,
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb kept her in view;
To academe he went with her,
Illegal, and quite rare;
It made the children laugh and play
To view a lamb in there.

I should point out, that in addition to eliminating all the 'S' letters from the poem, Mr. Eckler, like

Walk for them

Editor:

"Imagine, for a moment ... having to walk up to four miles, sometimes as often as three times a day, over rough terrain, bare feet, and in searing heat, just to bring your family water. Then imagine being parched with thirst and having to wait while the precious little water you have collected is boiled and then cooled, just so that it is pure enough to drink. And imagine not having enough water for basic things - like washing your face and hands - not even once a day. Finally, imagine having no rain falls at all for six months up to three or four years, and wondering what you will do when the tiny supply of water you do have runs out - which it will do - before the rains come.

The above quotations and some of the following ideas have been taken mainly from a Help The Aged recent circulation. However, those of us involved directly in Third World Development know only too well the truth of these statements. We are aware, too, that 80% of the sick people in our world are suffering from water related diseases, such as trachoma, lice, cholera/typhoid, diarrhoea, parasitic worms, and malaria. We know, also, that water is the key to sanitation, and that 75% of the people in the Third World are without any form of sani-

We are living in a Global Village, where whatever happens in one part of it will sooner or later affect (for good and/or for ill) other areas of this community.

Why, therefore, does the Haliburton County HELP A VILLAGE EFFORT (H.A.V.E.) Committee hold an annual WALK FOR WATER? The answer is obvious! We believe that the residents and visitors in our County are concerned about the sufferings and deaths, resulting from an inadequacy of pure water; and we believe that they want an opportunity to take some responsible action, in helping to solve this major world problem. (For instance, a walker and his/her sponsors who provide $1,500 enable a village of 500 or more persons in India to have a good supply of safe water for, possibly, the first time in their lives).

Recently, for one month, during March and April, I visited in India the gravity flow water pipeline system, most of the 53 drilled wells in 50 villages, and the Rural Community Health Centre. These are projects which H.A.V.E., through its WALKS and other contributions, and CIDA have funded over the past 5 years. On the whole our water and health projects are functioning very satisfactorily. (Please contact me, if you are interested in the specifics.) I wish most sincerely that you could have experienced with me the joy and appreciative thankfulness which the recipients of H.A.V.E. projects have expressed in my presence.

We invite you to be involved in the WALK FOR WATER, and the H.A.V.E. Committee. The WALK starts at 9 a.m. on June 4, at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Center, Wilberforce; and will cover 23 km in a very picturesque part of Haliburton County. For WALK forms and more information, please contact the WALK chairperson, Nada Vaughan (ph. no. 457-1891 or 457-2718) or one of the 15 members of the H.A.V.E.

Committee.

You have to be at least 16 years of age to drive in a car rally, but you're never too young to start planning a career in the sport. These two future competitors got a close-up look at some of the cars, as well as some tips from the drivers, while awaiting the start of the Black Bear Rally in Minden on Saturday. The rally saw 34 entries begin the race again this year from in front of the Rockcliffe Tavern.

Police keep tight lid on the details of local murder

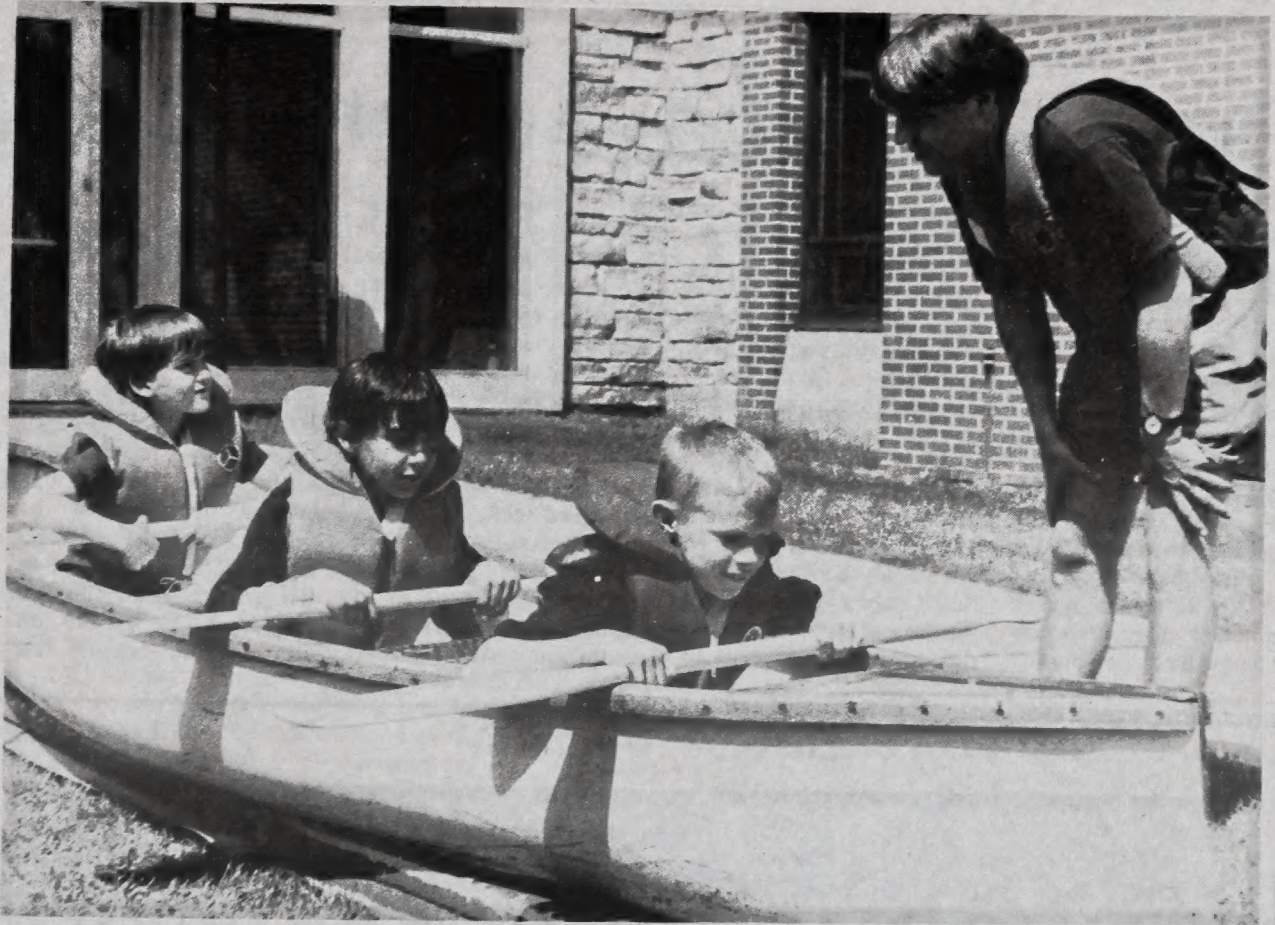

The investigation into the murder of Douglas Ross Rate is continuing and the police continue to be tight-lipped about the circumstances surrounding the crime.

Rate, a 38 year old from Eagle Lake, was discovered in the bush near West Guilford May 18 following a lengthy search for the man. He was reported missing since April 17. A post mortem conducted in Toronto indicated the man died of a gunshot wound that was not self-inflicted.

Police have been continuing their investigation of the incident and have released only limited information. No motive has been offered for the shooting, nor have the police released details of the shooting.

The investigation is being headed up by OPP Detective Inspector Lyle McCharles of the Criminal Investigation Branch.

"Low and slow." That's what John Browning, Joey Noel and Travis Leonard were practicing Friday when David Hayes from the Red Cross paid a visit to Archie Stouffer Elementary School to give a lesson on water safety. When climbing in or out of a canoe, the key words are low and slow, the students learned. They were also shown a film on water safety and given some tips on wearing life jackets.

Rural childcare manual available soon

Four timely issues came up for discussion at the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario semi-annual board meeting, held recently in Toronto.

A policy statement was issued stating that FWIO supported the availability of rural childcare. It was the Women's Institute in 1984 who initiated and developed the pilot project for rural day care. This year the Bethesda Reach Women's Institute has established a rural childcare programme in their area. Subject to the availability of funds the Bethesda Reach Women's Institute and their caregivers will write the manual of rural childcare. This will be available to any one interested in rural childcare.

The second topic under discussion was bird seed. When samples of bird seed were analysed it was found that they contained a number of weed seeds and this was causing weeds to be introduced to areas where they had not been before. This meant that our environment was being threatened as well as an increase cost to the farmer to rid fields and crops of these weeds. A resolution was passed urging that birdseed companies package birdseed without any weed seeds.

With taxation on their minds as well as concern with the plight of many farmers an emergency resolution was passed urging the federal government to bring their assets of a farm as well as farm land into the $500,000 capital gains deductible at the time of a farm sale.

The theme of FWIO from April 1988-April 1989 is waste management. Recycling was evident in many of the deliberations of the FWIO board. The conference in Kingston Many 13-15 sponsored by FWIO on waste management has created a great deal of enthusiasm throughout rural Ontario. Displays on recycled articles were on hand for all the board members to see. Waste management - recycling will be the theme of the FWIO booth at the Royal Winter Fair this year.

Twenty-nine county scholarship winners were announced with the names to be revealed when the scholarships are presented. This is FWIO's commitment to rural youth.

Another way FWIO showed their commitment to youth was the announcement that they would donate $50,000 to the University of Guelph building fund to be used to establish a Nutrition Laboratory.

Mrs. Bernice Noblitt the past president of Federated Women's Institute of Canada and the FWIO nominee was one of the 18 out of 400 selected to

Kinmount play holds much promise

Oscar Wilde once wrote "the only link between Literature and Drama left to us at the present moment is the bill for the play." Not so today, as the clamour for tickets to the Kinmount Civic Action Committee's presentation of The Importance of Being Earnest continues.

A multi-talented array of individuals from the area have transformed a need for funding for community projects into a creative experience unparalleled in recent years.

Stage and set designs are in place, as are the costumes, which will transform the familiar faces of the local actors into the characters Wilde brought to life in his most successful play.

For Director Margaret Telford the months of rehearsals and direction to the actors reflects her genuine love of the theatre and her longstanding commitment to her community.

In 1979 she co-produced and directed the very successful presentation of Thornton Wilder's play Our Town, which played to capacity crowds in the Kinmount Community Hall.

The cast represents a blend of experienced and novice actors, who imbue their respective characters with the wit and affectations Wilde intended as part of the dynamics of Earnest.

Guy Scott, cast as Algernon, has turned his talents from writing to the stage. Scott is the author of the recently released History of Kinmount, which continues to be a local best-seller. His foil in the play sees Doug Pearson in the role of Jack, who finds himself cornered by the deceptions planned by Algernon.

Jennifer Dettman brings a haughty styling to the role of Gwendolen. Jennifer is a member of the highly acclaimed and much accredited theatre troupe at Fenelon Falls Secondary School.

Sheila Mitchell suffers

the outrageous nuances of British aristocracy in all its suffocating pomposity in her role as the maid, Merrium. Her counterpart, Lane, is played by Ian Tate, who brings to the stage some acting experience from the Toronto scene.

Tate notes that as Lane, "he does all the right things with deference, decorum and aplomb, but he is not above nipping a little at the sherry decanter."

Stella Tate, who plays Lady Bracknell, finds the challenge of her character in the utterances of nonsense, fulfilling her status as "a domineering, calculating, autocratic old wind-bag."

Both Stella and her husband Ian describe themselves as part-time Kinmountians, choosing to live in Toronto for part of the year. Their unselfish dedication to the community extends beyond the current stage presentation, as both are regular participants at the Pioneer Tent display at the Kin-mount Fair.

The role of the most righteous and Reverend Chausuble has befallen Matthew Eades. Eades regards the Reverend as doing all the right things necessary to please the monied upper class, while "recognizing the role of spiritual guide to be an important and principled position."

Two of the younger members of the cast might describe themselves as seasoned veterans of the stage following a successful outing in the musical production of Bye Bye Birdie at Fenelon Falls Secondary School earlier this year.

Jill Dettman plays Miss Prism, whom she describes as stern and correct in her approach to life. Jane Austin is cast as Cecily, a somewhat manipulative presence in Wilde's satire on British morality in the 1800's.

As attested to by the play's producer Diane Austin, a multitude of very dedicated and talented people have made invaluable contributions to the overall success of the play. From the lighting and the curtains to the set design and the costumes, the presentation has served to draw together the vitality which gives life to a small community.

Other members of the cast, who have committed themselves as understudies and assisted with readings during the many rehearsals are Tom Johnston, Cheryl Pearson and Sue Traves.

Proceeds from the two evening performances, June 10 and 11, are to assist with the cost of the Kinmount Civic Action Committee's Canada Day Festivities. Some tickets are still available and can be obtained by calling 488-2635, 488-2687, or by dropping in at the Kinmount Variety Store.

FWIO chooses new officers receive the Order of Ontario.

FWIO's nominee of Mrs. Dorothy Fitcher, a past president of FWIO was accepted into the Ontario Agriculture Hall of Fame.

As well the current FWIO programme co-ordinator Mrs. Hilde Norden with her husband has been selected to receive one of the 100 medals presented by OMAF in honour of their centenary.

FWIO the largest and oldest of the rural women's organizations in Ontario is certainly living up to its motto of "For Home and Country" with the variety of topics discussed at its recent board meeting.

Having your face painted is almost a prerequisite to entering the rest of the activities as Rebecca Wallace discovers at the annual fun fair sponsored by Archie Stouffer Home and School Association. Dozens of kids and parents turned out to the entertaining event on Saturday.

me, also dealt a crushing blow to all the 'X's which first appeared in the rhyme.

Now, if I've tickled your interest in this intriguing bit of word play, I hold in my hand, a copy of Mary's poem, with all the 'E's removed. If you've got a couple of weeks, why not try reconstructing the ovinary paean to that standard, and send it along to me for inclusion in some future Jack's World.

And, as we finally close this week's effort, I am obliged once again to draw your attention to the paucity of a certain letter in this column. It's quite extraordinary, really.

Soyer's Lake meeting

The 1988 Spring Meeting of the Soyers Lake Ratepayers' Association was held at the PineStone Inn on Saturday, May 21st, with a record attendance of about half of the total membership of 102. President Lew McCorrison was in the chair.

The main attraction was guest speaker Jerry Strickland, the energetic Executive Director of FOCA (the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations), who addressed the vital issues of cottage taxation and water levels.

Mr. Strickland noted that the provincial government has been shifting an increasing share of the burden of financing education onto the municipalities. Over the past 15 years the provincial share has fallen from 60% to 45% overall, or 35% in some cottage areas such as Muskoka. Lower provincial grants per household to municipalities in cottage areas, plus the introduction of market value assessments, have further increased the burden on cottagers who must pay for education services twice. Mr. Strickland stated that FOCA has made two submissions to government, proposing that provincial funding of education be increased to 60% and that an education property tax credit be introduced to reduce the unfair tax burden on cottagers. He strongly urged cottagers to write to their local M.P.P. and to the Minister of Education, Chris Ward, in support of FOCA's proposals.

On the topic of water levels, Mr. Strickland showed slides outlining some of the highlights of the Trent-Severn post audit report recently released by H.G. Acres. He said that the installation of sophisticated data gathering equipment, together with a simulation model which can gauge the effect of altering the water flow at key locations, would result in improved ability to manage water levels and respond to emergency situations. The final answer to water level problems would be to install more reservoir capacity.

The business portion of the meeting began with memorials. A moment of silence was observed in remembrance of Marion Curry, a long-term resident of Soyers Lake who died on February 11, 1988. Committee reports were presented by Neale

Harris, treasurer, and Ross Partridge on pollution control. David Pengelly volunteered to take over the upkeep of the lake directory and map. No winter damage or breakins were reported under the Neighbourhood Watch program. August 20th was set as the date of the 1988 Corn Roast. A resolution was passed authorizing the Association to pay part of the costs of an Ontario Municipal Board hearing, requested by a group of Poverty Bay residents, concerning a proposed severance of Parts A and 5, Plan RD53, at which the OMB ordered a fresh inspection of the terrain in question which has a permanent creek running through it. Another resolution authorized the treasurer to pay FOCA dues for 1988 and 1989 based on a minimum fee of $55 plus $1 for each member of the Association.

New business raised by members included the oiling of roads (it is no longer acceptable to use road oil containing PCBs and the cost of calcium is too high, but a member mentioned that a new Campbellford Chamber of Commerce. Both start at 2 p.m. with representatives from the federal, provincial and municipal governments and those who have helped to put the campaign together.

Special attention will be paid to I.G.A. stores for their contribution of litter bags, suitably imprinted for distribution by the lockmasters to all boats, large and small, as they are being locked through on the Waterway. Thousands of these bags with a map of the Waterway will be handed out. It is hoped that they will serve as a deterrent to throwing bait boxes, pop tins, and other such littler overboard. Much of this garbage finds its way into the water and this is what the friends of the Trent-Severn Waterway hope to end.

Everyone is welcome to attend the launching ceremonies.

Vaccinate Your Pets

Pet owners should know that rabies vaccination protects both the animal and its human companions. In the past 10 years rabies was diagnosed in 16,392 animals in Ontario of which 1,408 were dogs and cats. More than half of the 12,000 people who had to be vaccinated during this period had been exposed to dogs and cats. Rabies vaccine provides animals with an effective barrier against infection from four weeks after the inoculation for a period of a year or more. Cats require more frequent booster vaccinations than dogs to maintain a good level of immunity, but your veterinarian's advice on the frequency of vaccination for both dogs and cats should be followed.

Six qualify for All-Ontario

Six athletes, competing in five events will represent Haliburton Highlands Secondary School at the All-Ontario track and field competitions this weekend in Etobicoke. The participants were selected as a result of their performance Friday at the regional competition in Kingston.

Leading the HHSS team this year is Leslie Tashlin who will be representing the school in three events. She is a member of the senior girls 4 by 100 relay team and also will be competing in the senior girls 100 metre hurdles and the 200 metre hurdles. Leslie placed first in the 100 metre event and fourth in the 200 metres in Kingston.

Other members of the relay team travelling to Toronto this weekend are Lindsay Tashlin, Jody McKnight and Lori Ann Duguay.

The school will also be represented by Marty Andrews who placed third in the junior boys discus with a throw of 40.15 metres and Ron Perrin who was second in the senior boys javelin throw with a distance of 55 metres.

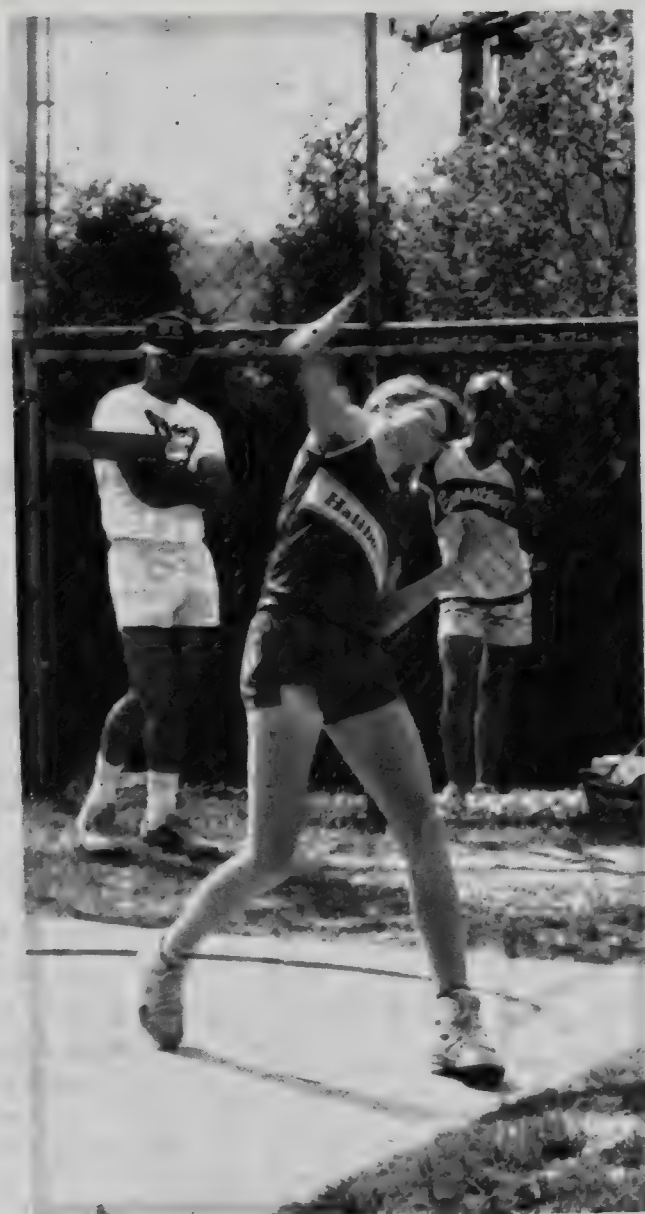

Track and field coach Brian Morrisette commented that he was very pleased with the showing of the athletes and noted that many of those who failed to qualify for the All-Ontario competition still turned in their personal best performances at the Kingston competition.

Hans Fleugel clears the bar during the pole vault competition in Kingston on Friday.

The HHSS Midget Girls relay team Arlene Simmons, Danielle LaRue, Mary Ingrosso and Tracy Popple.

Dustin Davis delivers the discus.

MUSICFEST CANADA

Band wins bronze

Weeks of hard work to raise the necessary funds and years of practice with their musical instruments has paid off for the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Stage Band.

The band returned from the national stage band festival in Calgary last Sunday and were soon told they had achieved a bronze standard. This designation indicates the level of play the band achieved during its performance in Calgary.

The national stage band festival is a competition of the best high school musicians from across Canada. This is the first time a band from Haliburton has competed at that level and they have come home with some very impressive results.

In addition to their performances, the young musicians had the opportunity to participate in various workshops. They also had a chance to see another part of the country. During their stay in Calgary the band members visited Banff and Lake Louise, where they were treated to a view of the Rocky Mountains.

They're back!

The HHSS stage band had barely returned from the successful competition in Calgary before they found themselves involved in yet more band activities. Last week a group of musicians from Stamford Collegiate in Niagara Falls arrived in the county to complete their portion of a band exchange between the two schools. On Thursday night, they along with the HHSS band gave a concert at the high school. Friday, the group visited Bark Lake Leadership Camp near Irondale, for a day-long outing.

Our election of officers for the coming year was held on April 27. The new executive for Minden Branch 636 of The Royal Canadian Legion is Anthony Samarillo, President; Aulis Orpana, first Vice President; David McAdam, second Vice President; Ann McAdam, Secretary; and Clifford Green, Treasurer. Our new Executive Committee: Eric Lewis, Ron Maddock, Frank Dunsford, Gareth Kellett, Isobel Lewis, Sally Bonner, and Muriel Bird. Sgt-at-Arms is Doug Tedford.

Appreciation was shown Election Night for the scrutineers from other branches, and a special mention for the excellent Colour Party from the Kinmount Branch. The installing officer was Zone Commander Stan Moore.

Those on the outgoing first year's executive can be proud indeed!

Comrade Frank Dunsford, Membership Chairman (286-1291) asks vacationers to consider membership in our Branch. We are currently open Wednesdays and Saturdays from noon until 12 midnight. Before long we hope to be open most of the week. Our Branch is conveniently located on Highway 35, at the junction of Highway 121 (286-4541).

The May General Meeting was held on May 4th at 7:30 p.m. - the first at our permanent home. New members, transfers, etc., were heartily approved by a large gathering. As well, our Branch Padre, Pastor Douglas Kent, was warmly received.

The extent of physical labour involved in arranging our premises to please is great. To list all of those who have donated time and sweat would fill the column on its own. The Branch is also extremely thankful for all donated items, and anticipates more of the same.

Ron Maddock would particularly like more volunteers for Saturday Raffle Ticket sales (286-3968).

Haliburton Home Care Seniors have been meeting at the Hall every second Tuesday for Hot Lunch and Euchre.

One of our first catering events was for the "Wednesday Afternoon Bowling League".

Other events

Open Horseshoes at Omamee - June 4th.

Zone Golf at Lindsay - June 11th.

Zone Darts at Beaverton - June 12th.

Our next monthly General Meeting is on June 1st, this Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Promote your Branch as much as possible. Your Branch spirit is enhanced by visits to sick comrades.

You have a right to know.

Interest charges and service fees should be closely examined whenever you are in the market for credit.

Rates vary greatly and the methods of calculating interest and services differ from one institution to another.

It is your right—and in your best interest—to know precisely how much credit is costing you!

You should always compare carefully such things as:

- the interest rate being charged
- the amount of time allowed to pay in full before interest is charged
- how the interest charges are calculated
- the non-interest charges such as transaction or service fees
- the competitive benefits offered by one institution over another

Canada

A week to help protect surroundings

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Monday, May 30
Talk-It-Up

Actions begin with ideas, then translating those ideas into words, sharing concerns, sparking interest. That's why talking about the environment is a constructive first step for Environment Week. By discussing issues of concern, you motivate people to act. You also build awareness of the importance of the environment and promote the development of environmentally-caring attitudes.

Whether you're a business leader, homemaker, teacher or student, there is much that you can do to save our planet, according to the World Commission on Environment and Development (the Brundtland Commission). To symbolize Canada's commitment to the Brundtland report's message of hope, this year's National Environment Week theme is "Our Common Future". By using your influence, and talking it up, you can prove to Canadians and to the world that you are ready and willing to protect our future.

Tuesday, May 31
Join Up

Protectors of the environment, unite! Joining forces with people who are as concerned about the environment as you are is an excellent way to help protect and enhance the quality of our environment. Working with people with similar concerns is a positive experience - remember, there is strength in numbers. As Dr. Margaret Mead once counselled, "Never doubt that a small group of committed people can change the world. Indeed it is the only thing that ever has."

Wednesday, June 1
Pick-It-Up

Let today be the first day of your commitment to a pollution-free, litter-free environment. Environment Week provides a chance to right the wrongs created by carelessness in the past, and make a brand-new start.

Picking up litter may seem like a modest step, but it leads to an awareness of the need for recycling and reducing solid waste. Our industrialized society uses 80 times more energy than an undeveloped African society. Waste in packaging, waste in energy use contribute to our global crisis. So count yourself in on Wednesday, June 1. A better world begins when you Pick-It-Up.

Thursday, June 2 Bundle-It-Up

Don't throw it out - Bundle-It-Up! The Brundtland report warns us that our environment can not sustain single-use, "throw-away" products. By recycling and re-using discarded products, you can help conserve our precious natural resources - resources that have to last for generations to come.

Each year, the average Canadian throws away an estimated 1100 pounds of garbage at home, work or school. That's two metric tonnes a year for a family of four. It's expensive to get rid of - $1.5 billion is spent each year in Canada on garbage disposal - and it can cause serious environmental problems. That's why it makes sense to recycle or re-use whenever you can.

Friday, June 3
Tune-It-Up
Help put the brakes on air pollution now! Our planet cannot sustain excessive, haphazard use of motor vehicles without being damaged. During Environment Week, drivers are asked to make a special effort to keep their cars, trucks and recreation vehicles in tune with the environment.

Did you know that motor vehicles are the largest single source of air pollution in Canada? Don't exhaust our natural resources and our future! By tuning it up on Friday, June 3 - and regularly throughout the year - you'll help protect the environment.

Saturday, June 4
Green-It-Up

Sow the seeds that will make our world a healthy, green place to be - for people and for our feathered and four-legged friends. Plant trees, shrubs or wildflowers on public grounds and help protect our environment.

Over 1 million species of plants and animals will become extinct by the year 2000 - 12 years from now due to deforestation, agriculture and other human activity. Twenty-seven million acres of forest are stripped from the earth every single year and the pace is accelerating. Loss of forests have an impact on global climate, on soil erosion, and wildlife habitat. Conservation helps save our ecosystems. Environment Week is your chance to contribute.

Sunday, June 5 Respect It

Our nation's first people understood that we are connected to our environment and that we destroy it at our peril. Chief Seattle of the Dwamish Nation warned: "Whatever befalls the Earth befalls the sons of the Earth."

Those blue sheets are up

voices of hhss

by Katy Beach, Dianne Garbutt and Heather Donaldson

Well, the sign that shows the summer is not too far away came on Thursday,

May 25. The notorious "blue sheets", the exam schedules, were issued and given what one may consider to be a cold-hearted welcome.

As we said last week we would have reported some of the recent results from the COSSA Track and Field Meet however, The Times beat us to it. Congratulations to the entire team for earning a place for Haliburton in the top four.

The band-exchange students from Niagara Falls arrived Thursday for a three-day stay with hosts from throughout the Highlands. The students toured various sites and the highlight was undoubtedly the trip to Bark Lake on Friday. A concert was to have been given as well from the visiting school.

The HHSS Stage Band arrived home from Calgary last Sunday evening having earned a bronze standard award. Regardless of some problems that arose the community support financially and emotionally was deeply appreciated and it is hoped the spirit remains buoyant throughout the future years.

The bug season is definitely upon us. It becomes apparent when gym classes feel like resorting to beekeepers hats and switch deodorant for "Deep Woods" - just to play soccer!

The senior geology class with Mr. Valentine travelled to Dorset last Thursday observing rock formations within the landscape. Although many came back with millions of insect bites it was still a good experience for all.

The days are growing longer and soon Mr. Hemphill shall be leaving us and Mr. Forgrave shall take his place. The last ping-pong ball will bounce, the last french fries and gravy sold and the last horoscope read for 1987 - 88. The end of an era? Maybe.

Until next week.

Wilson to address local PC Association

Michael Wilson, Minister Finance, will be the guest speaker at a fund-raising dinner for the Victoria - Haliburton Federal Conservative Association.

Wilson is the member of Parliament for the riding of Etobicoke Centre and was first elected to the House of Commons in 1979.

The banquet will be held in the Little Britain Community Centre on Saturday, June 4 at 7 p.m.

Minden OPP notes

During the week of May 9 to 15, 1988, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: motor vehicle accidents - 12, with four minor injuries, general occurrences - 41, with 6 thefts, 5 break and enters.

Pedestrian injured

On Monday, May 9 Amy Schults, age 18, of Haliburton, ran from between parked cars on Highland St. in Haliburton Village. She was struck by a slow moving pick-up truck being driven by Fred Fountain, age 51, of Dysart Twp. Taken by ambulance to Haliburton Hospital, Schults was treated for abrasions to her right leg. No charges were laid. Investigated by PC Bill Clendenning.

Airport break-in
On May 12 a break-in was discovered at the Stanhope Airport office building. Entry was gained through a window which had been broken by the culprit who apparently cut himself in the process. A small amount of coins were stolen and approximately $350 damage occurred in an unsuccessful attempt to break into inner cabinets. Investigation being conducted by PC Brad Burkholder.

Selling is complex process prepared by the Haliburton District

Real Estate Board

Successfully selling your property is a very complex process. Strictly speaking all that you want is for a buyer to submit an offer for the price you want ... simple? Not really. There are a myriad of factors that affect success. Right from the very beginning, everything must be 'right'.

1) Choosing The Realtor you list with and in particular, the salesperson you choose to give the listing to — Do you call your friend who is in real estate or a 'stranger'? Listing with a friend seems like the best approach but what happens when you are unhappy with some detail of the process? It can become very stressful on your friendship. On the other hand your friend may 'go the distance' for you like no other salesperson. Weigh this carefully before you reach for the telephone. This is business. You want to sell quickly and you also want to get the most you can for your property. Don't base your decision on some frivolous detail like giving it to the first salesperson who will decrease commission, or your next door neighbour, you owe a favour to, etc. Keep it strictly business. However, the choice of your Realtor can be a prickly situation. If you feel it will upset someone, the common courtesy of calling them and chatting about your decision will prevent these difficulties ... especially if they will have the opportunity to show your property and sell it.

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Stanhope, proposes to enact a by-law to stop-up and close and convey to the abutting property owner that part of the original allowance for road set out and described as follows.

FIRSTLY: All and Singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Stanhope, in the County of Haliburton and being composed of part of the original sixty-six foot shore road allowance along the shore of Big Hawk Lake lying in front of part Lot 21 Concession XIII and that part of Lot 21 Concession XIII designated as road allowance on Crown Land Survey attached to Instrument Number 2372 and being more particularly described as Part 1 on a Plan deposited in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of the County of Haliburton as Plan 19R 4032.

THE PROPOSED BY-LAW will come before the said council for consideration at its regular meeting at the Municipal Office in the Township of Stanhope on the 8th day of June, 1988 at the hour of 11:30 a.m., and at that time, the Council will hear in person or by his/her counsel, solicitor or agent any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected and who applied to be heard.

What a great Victoria Holiday! The crowds, the garage sales, auction sales, the fireworks. Nearly everyone had company and enjoyed those 3 days, but maybe not the sunburn.

It was a new experience for me as I went with the Seniors from Hyland Crest on their Friday trip to Lindsay. An enjoyable time and I had a good companion, Dora Dawson, and it was a lovely day as well.

Only one person at Hyland Crest having a birthday soon, with good wishes going to Vera Harrison on June 2nd.

Bertha and Bob Hughes entertained their whole family over the weekend and that must have been a lively group.

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Mrs. Ethel Sparks whose funeral was since last week.

Eight members of Minden Women's Institute enjoyed Victoria East District Annual at Norland United Church on May 24th.

At the Tuesday night euchre games at Lochlin Centre winners were - for lone hands - Bruce O'Brien and others Ruby Cartwright, Reta Crofts, Isa Hilyer and Joyce Schellenberg. These games will resume in the Fall after very successful winter games.

Lil Martin is home again after several weeks with Wendy and Phil Nicholls and family of Bolton.

Cheryl and Cliff Lacey, Darren and Derek of Mono Mills visited with Jean Lacey and other relatives in the area.

Several people are under the weather with good wishes going to Mrs. Mysyk and Art Austen.

Alice Morrison enjoyed several weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morrison and Jordan of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Myles Morrison and boys of Brantford.

Visitors with Joyce Hewitt on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hewitt and family of Barrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Coulter, Emmy and Antony of Aurora visited with Aunt Lila Warburton.

Janice and Jack Shaw and Bradley Robinson spent last weekend at Nashville on a very enjoyable bus tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warburton and boys of Scarborough spent the weekend, some of the time here but enjoying themselves with other relatives as well.

We note that the Thursday afternoon Shuffleboard Euchres will start at the Library Cultural Centre at 1:30 on June 2nd. The Agricultural Society are having their beef barbeque and dance at the arena on June 4th. See their posters for details.

For the walking folk of the village, sidewalks are good in some areas and especially on one side right up to the public school and also in toward the arena. But more work is to be done - the one side on the way to the library but the road there is a pleasure. They really did close Orde Street.

Winners at Club 35's card party for this week were - door prize - Chris McCrae, most lone hands - Mary Stevenson, high lady - Eleanor Smith, high man - George Alsop and others - Mary Schad, Len Trodd, and Ralph Schad. Don't forget the June 3 pot luck supper at 6 p.m.

A Child's View of Retirement in a Mobile Home Park

After a Christmas break the teacher asked her small pupils how they had spent their holidays. One small boy's reply went like this.

"We always spend Christmas with Grandpa and Grandma. They used to live up here in a big brick house but Grandpa got retarded and they moved to Florida. They live in a place with a lot of retarded people. They live in tin huts. They ride big three wheel tricycles. They go to a big building they call the wrecked hall. But if it is wrecked it is fixed now. They play games there and do exercises, but they don't do them very good. There is a swimming pool and they go to it and just stand there in the water with their hats on, I guess they don't know how to swim. My Grandma used to bake cookies and stuff, but I guess she forgot how. Nobody cooks there, they all go to fast food restaurants. As you come into the Park there is a doll house with a man sitting in it. He watches all day, so they can't get out without him seeing them. They wear badges with their names on them. I guess they don't know who they are. My Grandma says Grandpa worked hard all his life and earned his retardment. I wish they would move back home. But I guess the man in the doll house won't let them out.

Little Tree

Little Tree, Little Tree,
You're not as you're meant to be,
Not as I recall.
Unless I miss my guess,
A geranium, why yes,
But not so tall.

There you are still growing,
How tall there's no
knowing.
And where to find you
room
With all this branching out,
And, goodness when you sprout
Into full bloom.

I don't mean to be rude,
I'm sure there is some good
Reason, I've no doubt,
But I'm wondering what factor

Could lend itself to doctor
So fabulous a sprout.

Aside, I must find out
What this is all about,
With what we're dealing,
At this rate in its growth
It will, upon my oath,
Go through the ceiling.

If ever it gets there
It will be my despair,
Just what to do.
So there it is. Meantime
I have to watch it climb
Goodness knows where to.

It seems so much assertion
Of being as of person
As to intimidate.
I know it seems inane,
But I'm sure I'd share the pain
Were I to amputate.

Dear Readers: Nice weather, so cool!

Our birthdays at Hyland Crest for June are Lola Prentice, Ada Lewis, Vera Harrison.

Services Sunday evening were by Rev. J. Burgess and on Tuesday morning by Rev. Kent of the Minden Baptist Church.

Dora Dawson had her nephew Harold Dawson of Calgary to call on her last week. Mrs. McGuire had her daughter for dinner on Sunday. Bert Harrison went to his home for the day on Sunday. Alice Todd arrived home after spending a week at Richmond Hill with some of her family. She reported she had a pleasant time. Sorry to say Doris Robertson is sick with the flu. We hope she will be better real soon.

Ray and Marie Jenkins came here Friday and Sunday to see Finnie, Ray played again for us, lovely old songs we sang. We look forward to seeing and hearing him real soon. Lola Prentice is home and feeling much better. It was nice to have Mr. Houghton and his daughter come to entertain us Tuesday evening. Hope they will come again soon.

Bye for now.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that.
Have fun!

Selling

(from page 21)

You can't please everyone! You must feel comfortable with whomever you list your property with and you must feel confident in their abilities. Try to keep emotions in check when making all the decisions you will be required to make throughout the entire process of successfully selling your property.

2) The Listing Agreement: Misrepresentation is a dual responsibility. You must give your realtor complete and accurate information. The salesperson must verify this information where appropriate. Statements on the listing form like: "New Wiring" or "Winterized" or "Up to date Septic" or "Development Potential" or "Furnished" - all these terms must be spelled out in the greatest detail. No guessing allowed! Litigation isn't fun for any of the parties involved but be clear in the understanding that if your property is misrepresented and the buyer understands certain facts to be true from either what he is told or what is written in the listing, he may be sufficiently inspired to either refuse to close the deal or to sue someone!

3) Marketing Strategy: Each property is individual and it is partly your responsibility. Call your listing salesperson regularly or with any 'news' that will affect the sale of your property ... a neighbouring property has just gone up for sale (your salesperson may not be aware of it for several days). The impact on the selling of your property will be affected by this fact. The comparison of your property to all the listings in your area is one of the facts which impacts the successful sale of your property. Does your property have better features? Perhaps your property is a better dollar value, even though the prices are similar. (More next week).

BIRTHS

STEWART: Hi. Allow me to introduce myself. My name is JACQUELINE NICHOLE. I was born to extremely happy parents, Carla and Steven Stewart at 9:25 a.m. on Friday, May 13th. I weighed 8 lbs., 10 oz. Among the list of happy relatives are my brothers Jamie and David. Also my grandparents Mrs. Doris Stewart, Mr. Barry Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lichty. My mommy, daddy and I wish to thank Dr. Stokes, Dr. Froats and the staff at PCH.

CARPENTER: Greg and Debbie are happy to announce the safe arrival of their daughter

JESSICA ELIZABETH May 18, 1988 at 6:52 p.m. weighing in at 7 lb., 15 1/2 oz. at Peterborough Civic. Proud grandparents for the fourth time are Ivan and Jean Ingram of Minden, and for the eighth time are Barb and Doug Carpenter of Lochlin. Special thanks to Dr. Karl Hartwick and Dr. Tim Froats.

CARD OF THANKS

Nelson and Hazel Austen would like to thank their children, also Nelson's hunting buddies and wives for making Nelson's 65th birthday a day he will remember for some time. The children presented him with a lawn mower and his buddies presented him with gifts he will enjoy both before and after cutting the grass. Sincere thanks to all.

Nelson & Hazel

Thanks to our family and friends for making our 25th anniversary a very special and unforgettable night. A very special thanks to Brenda and Jeff and Donna for making it possible. Thanks again.

John & Carol Toye

We would like to thank family and friends for the cards, gifts, flowers, and especially for the help at home when Jessica arrived. It is all very much appreciated.

Greg, Debbie and Jessica Carpenter
